Martial Law At Peiping

Mrs. Chiang Appeals By Radio For Aid From America; Berlin a Problem

By The Associated Press

President Truman and Secretary of State Marshall tackle today a world full of problems, one of the foremost of which is China.

Independent dispatches indicated Chinese Communists are again threatening the east flank of Sichuan, the guardian base for the capital of Nanking. Chinese observers said the government apparently did not follow up its successes of last week. Martial law was declared at Peiping for five northern provinces.

Mrs. Chiang Kai-Shek appealed by radio for immediate and definite American aid, saying "If China falls, all of Asia goes." The Communist radio told the U. S. to keep out and that aiding Chiang would be "an act of hostility."

Before the Truman-Marshall conference is a request from Chiang that the United States in effect take over the running of the Chinese war against the Communists through American military advisors and through enormously increased help to Chinese armies.

Berlin On Agenda

Berlin, of course, is high on the agenda. It is the hottest spot in the cold war in Europe and appears certain to remain that way a long time, since all mediation efforts have failed. The "neutral" nations on the U. N. Security Council began a new try for a compromise. President H. V. Evatt of the U. N. Assembly asserted there are reasonable prospects for a Berlin settlement in three weeks. Western officials in Berlin felt otherwise. They said the Berlin blockade was imposed to drive the western powers from the city and to stop western plans for a western German state. The airlift, which is costing the U. S. Treasury $100,000,000 a year, was harassed again by fog.

Discount Reports

U. S. intelligence sources said Marshal Konstantin Rokossovsky, chief of Russia's western armies, has moved headquarters west from East Prussia to Fuerstenberg, in Mecklenburg province. The anti-Communist newspaper Montag's Echo said Russian occupation forces in Germany have been increased, but western sources have discounted these reports.

Russia charged in the U. N. that Count Folke Bernadotte's peace plan for Palestine was prepared in the British foreign office. The scheme would give the southern Negev desert to the Arabs and western Galilee to the Jews, just the opposite of the U. N.'s own partition plan.

Premier Themistokles Sophoulis got a two-vote margin vote of confidence for the new coalition Greek cabinet. Paul-Henri Spaak failed to form a new government in Belgium, but kept trying. Spain's first city elections since 1939 resulted in a not surprising victory for councilmen favoring Generalissimo Franco.

Fishing Companion Finds Farmer Dead

DONIPHAN, Mo., Nov. 22.—(P)—Morgan E. Trigg, a farmer, was found dead on the bank of the Current river near here by his fishing companion late yesterday. Deputy Coroner Lynn Edwards said today. Trigg was 50.

Edwards said Trigg and Gus Pempiller, about 60, had been fishing and had built a fire alongside the stream. They were some 50 feet apart and had been talking, Pempiller said. When Trigg failed to answer him, Pempiller went to him and found him dead. Edwards said an inquest would not be held since death appeared to be from heart attack. Trigg leaves his widow and four children.

Thought For Today

The Christian world has a Leader, the contemplation of whose life and sufferings must administer comfort in affliction, while the sense of His power and omnipotence must give them humiliation in prosperity.—Steele.

'Mr. Silver' Alley Cat Still Winning

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 22.—(P)—"Mr. Silver," the alley cat that wandered in out of the rain and won two first prizes at the Greater St. Louis cat club show last year, is still a winner.

Last year the cat showed up, a stranger, at the hotel where the show was on. The manager, Bernard Tureen, promptly entered him.

In the same club show that ended yesterday, "Mr. Silver" won six awards, including two first prizes, in the blue male short hair class.

Poured Lye Into Another Man's Beer

VAN BUREN, Me., Nov. 22.—(P)—A 39-year-old laborer who police said admitted jealousy prompted him to pour lye into another man's beer was held today for murder in the death of his fiancée who drank it by mistake.

Carl Peterson, of Fort Fairfield, was charged with murder in the death of Mrs. Yvonne Poitras, 21, widow. She was the mother of 11 month old girl.

The warrant was issued by Municipal Court Judge Harry C. Manus.

Thanksgiving Day Talk By Minister

Rotarians Are Reminded of Many Of Their Blessings

"Come, ye thankful Rotarians, come," was the subject chosen by the Rev. H. U. Campbell, pastor of the Fifth Street Methodist church, in his Thanksgiving message to the Rotarians today noon at the Bothwell hotel.

The meeting was presided over by the Rev. J. Fred King, president, who also gave the invocation.

Singing was led by Otis W. Wiley.

Guests introduced by George H. Routsong were: James F. Gilbert, Warrensburg, guest of C. F. Scotten; Ralph Bryant, Salina, Kas., guest of Frank Bryant; William B. Rich, guest of Ray C. Lippard; James Denny, guest of Dick Snow and Rotarian D. D. Barr of Marshall.

Kenneth U. Love introduced the baby Rotarian, Charles J. Hofheine of the Sedalia Typewriter company.

Lawrence Brown, program chairman, introduced the speaker. Mr. Campbell's talk in part, follows:

Follow Custom

"Rotarians, other service clubs, organizations and religious groups are following the traditional custom of observing a time of Thanksgiving. This spirit of thanksgiving was instilled in man at the very beginning of his life, when God breathed into his nostrils the breath of life. It was this spirit that caused the Psalmist to say, 'Bless the Lord, O my soul, and all that is within me, bless His holy name'; Sing unto the Lord with thanksgiving, sing praise upon the harp unto our God and Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all His benefits. It was this spirit that caused our Pilgrim fathers to gather together that special thanksgiving in 1621. It was this spirit that caused Mrs. Sarah Josepha Hale, for 20 years to write governors, presidents and her editorials in

Eight Dead After Three-day Snowstorm in Plains Region

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 22.—(P)—The Great Plains region counted its dead from a three-day snowstorm at eight today.

The storm, which whipped across a strip of the Great Plains from eastern Colorado to Minnesota, blew itself out Saturday but clearing of snow-clogged roads and towns was still continuing in some areas today.

Five of the deaths occurred in Nebraska and three in Kansas.

Hundreds of motorists were marooned and trains and buses were stalled. Electric power and communications were disrupted. Some schools closed.

Yesterday snowplows uncovered the body of Mrs. Lael Laughlin, 30, of Jetmore, Kas., about a mile from where her automobile has stalled. She had been sought since Thursday. Her car stalled near Dodge City in western Kansas.

Religion is Enemy No. 1 to Communism

House Committee Makes Report on 100 Questions

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—(P)—"You cannot be a Communist and believe in God," the House un-American Activities committee said today.

That, the committee added in a summation entitled "100 things you should know about Communism and religion," is "the long and short of it."

"You cannot believe in God and have a peaceful life under Communism," the document declared. "In all their plans and actions, the Communists mark down religion as enemy No. 1. Where they dominate, they attack it head on. Where they do not dominate, they try to deceive and corrupt from within just as they do in government, in education, in labor unions, and throughout a nation's general life."

"The aim and object of Communism is always the same—complete control over the human mind and body, asleep and awake, in sickness and in health, from birth to death. That is why Communism marks religion enemy No. 1."

Must Kill Religion First

"Communism cannot dominate family life, for example, until it has first fought its way past the influence of religion upon the family."

"Communism cannot force its own brand of moral code upon a person without first destroying his moral code rooted in religion."

"Communism cannot make education a weapon in its hands so long as religion is secure in its own right to teach and to educate."

"Communism cannot make education a weapon in its hands so long as religion is secure in its own right to teach and to educate."

"Communism cannot dominate unless it has the power to remake the life of the people. It cannot ignore religion and do that."

Report Answered Questions

The committee's report was in the form of 100 questions it asked and then answered. The document is one in a series to be made public between now and the end of the year.

The others deal with education, labor and government, already published: "100 things you should know about Communism in the USA."

Here are a few of the new questions and answers supplied by the committee:

Q. If Communism should come to the United States, could I belong to a church?

A. You would have to choose at once between church and Communism. If you should choose the church, then prepare for persecution.

Q. Would the Communists destroy the Bible?

Parents Risk a Prison

A. Every copy they could find. And they would jail anybody trying to print new copies.

Q. Could my child be baptized or christened in the church?

A. At the risk of prison for parent and pastor.

Q. Would my child go to Sunday school?

A. Not only would Sunday school be illegal, but also your child would be taught to report you to the police for trying to send him.

Would Learn at Home

Q. How would my child learn his religion, then?

A. Only through what you might tell him at home, to offset the positive atheism he would learn all week at the government school.

Q. Are Communists trying to corrupt religion in the USA?

A. Yes.

Q. What is their method?

A. The Communist party of the United States assigns members to join churches and church organizations, in order to take control where possible, and in any case to influence thought and action toward Communists ends. It forms "front organizations" designed to attract "fellow travelers" with religious interests. It tries to get prominent religious leaders to support Communist policies, disguised as welfare work for minorities or oppressed peoples.

It was this spirit that caused our Pilgrim fathers to gather together that special thanksgiving in 1621. It was this spirit that caused Mrs. Sarah Josepha Hale, for 20 years to write governors, presidents and her editorials in

Body Found In Car

The body of Lester M. Carson, 38, McCook, Neb., was also found yesterday in his snow-covered car eight miles west of Oberlin in northwest Kansas. Another death reported last night was that of John H. Haun, 48, a truck operator who died of exhaustion from shoveling snow in O'Neill, Neb.

The heavy snow stalled a number of passenger trains. Snowplows, bucking through drifts as high as 15 feet, had cleared all the main-line tracks by today.

Some of the trains were tied up for three days, with passengers being cared for in nearby towns.

Winds up to 75 miles an hour accompanied the snow, accounting for the huge drifts. The sheep loss in western Kansas and eastern Colorado was high.

Five of the deaths occurred in Nebraska and three in Kansas.

Hundreds of motorists were marooned and trains and buses were stalled. Electric power and communications were disrupted. Some schools closed.

Yesterday snowplows uncovered the body of Mrs. Lael Laughlin, 30, of Jetmore, Kas., about a mile from where her automobile has stalled. She had been sought since Thursday. Her car stalled near Dodge City in western Kansas.

Garner, 32nd Vice President, Observes His 80th Birthday

VALVERDE, Tex., Nov. 22.—(P)—"Cactus Jack" turns 80 today, in favor of every man reaching his own conclusions and his own confusions."

The Texan who was the 32nd vice-president of the United States thinks that there have been "too many statements by too many people." And that was his explanation of why he didn't have some birthday statement full of advice. Another reason is his long habit of reticence about making statements.

John Nance Garner reaches his 80th birthday in good health and good spirits. He plans an outing in the woods today, but no special preparations for the day have been planned.

Since returning to private life in 1941 after two terms as vice-president, Garner has lived quietly, keeping an eye on his banking, ranching, and real estate interests.

His wife died in August and he since has lived alone in his big house next door to his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Tully Garner.

The real reason for Turkey on Thanksgiving!

They say Thanksgiving is a day for giving thanks, and so it is. And we strongly suspect Turkey was usually served because it offered such a good excuse to serve delectable Sausage Dressing with it. So, of course, you'll want to serve your bird with Sausage Dressing, too. And you'll want to make it exactly like the original old Colonial recipe. That means you'll want to make it with famous Rodeo Pork Sausage. For it is seasoned to make this splendid dressing taste its best. Order Rodeo Pork Sausage for your dressing now. Be sure to get enough for a delicious Thanksgiving breakfast, too. MAURER-NEUER MEAT PACKERS.

Lunch at Father Andreas' House Brings Peace to This Galilee Village

Atop a hill in Galilee, the village of Iqtr was caught in cross-fire until peace came to stay.

Arabs of Iqtr and soldiers of Israeli sit down to their peace luncheon. Father Andreas (extreme left), host, wrote the peace song an Arab orphan (center) is singing.

By E. F. ILANI

IQTIR, Palestine — (NEA)—At the foot of the stony hill on which the Arab village of Iqtr sits in northern Galilee, Father Andreas met the Israeli Army officers and led them back to the hill for lunch.

In the priest's house, the Israelis and the villagers sat down to a meal of roast chicken, potatoes, cheese, olives, onions, wine, arak and coffee.

Father Andreas and an Israeli Army captain sat side by side at the head of the table. An Arab orphan, who will some day be Father Andreas' successor, sang a song the priest had written for this special day. Outside, other villagers watched through the windows and waited their turn to eat what was left over.

This was the way peace came to stay in a tiny corner of Palestine, where the Arab village, all of whose people are Catholics, had prayed for an Israeli victory in the midst of cross-fire between Jewish forces and the Arab "irregulars" of Fawzi el Kauki.

Before the battle, Father Andreas said their crops had been looted and their livestock stolen, but Moslem authorities in the district would give them no justice. So when the Israeli forces arrived, Father Andreas went to them with a peace offer and asked that his village be taken under protection.

Now some of the villagers work for the Israeli forces, supplying them with water, washing dishes, and repairing highways damaged by retreating Arabs.

But most of the people of Iqtr are content to be able to go to their fields with the camels again and enjoy the peace Father Andreas brought to their village.

The Daily Washington Merry-go-Round

by Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—The White House advisers have prepared a careful worksheet for the President on one of the most important questions affecting everyone—taxes. It will be placed before him soon. Here is a preliminary peek at the general recommendations on our future tax structure:

Excess profits—A new excess profits tax will be recommended though somewhat more lenient than that imposed in wartime. The maximum tax probably will be about 75 per cent, 10 per cent less than the wartime assessment, while the profit "floor" at which corporations start paying taxes will be increased 35 per cent over the wartime level. In addition, a $75,000 profit exemption probably will be granted to all corporations.

Public assistance—Benefits and unemployment compensation also will be increased. The retirement age for old-age pensions will be lowered from 65 to 62 or 63 for men, and to 60 for women employees. Old age pensions will be increased at least 50 percent, with the federal government footing the whole cost, since a majority of the states won't agree to increasing their share of the pensions.

Pay roll taxes—A firm that started paying taxes on wartime profits exceeding, say one million dollars, could now make an additional 35 per cent, or $350,000 plus the $75,000 exemption, before the tax collector stepped in.

The new law—will be carefully designed to protect small corporations. Of 362,000 corporations in the country, only a top crust of about 25,000 will be affected. Liberal exemptions will take others out of the taxable class.

Income Tax—Administration leaders hope the excess profits tax will bring in sufficient revenue to make further income levies unnecessary. Some "adjustments" (additional levies) may have to be made in the higher income tax brackets, however, to offset foreign-aid commitments and domestic expenditures for public housing, federal aid to education, reclamation and other programs up the President's sleeve.

No general income tax revision, such as repeal of the GOP tax structure, is contemplated.

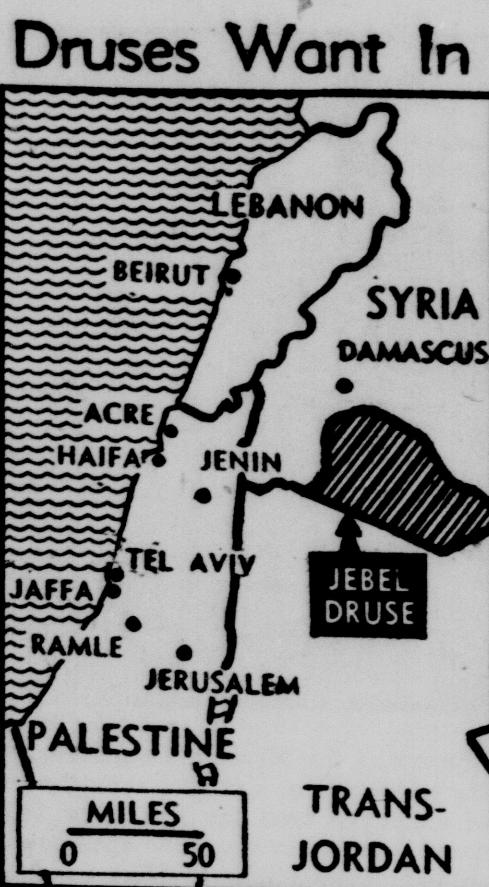

Social security—This self-sustaining plan will be expanded to cover an additional 15 million to 20 million workers who do not now receive social security benefits. Old age pensions will be increased at least 50 percent, with the federal government footing the whole cost, since a majority of the states won't agree to increasing their share of the pensions.

Business assistance—Public assistance benefits and unemployment compensation also will be increased. The retirement age for old-age pensions will be lowered from 65 to 62 or 63 for men, and to 60 for women employees. Old age pensions will be increased at least 50 percent, with the federal government footing the whole cost, since a majority of the states won't agree to increasing their share of the pensions.

Pay roll taxes—A firm that started paying taxes on wartime profits exceeding, say one million dollars, could now make an additional 35 per cent, or $350,000 plus the $75,000 exemption, before the tax collector stepped in.

The new law—will be carefully designed to protect small corporations. Of 362,000 corporations in the country, only a top crust of about 25,000 will be affected. Liberal exemptions will take others out of the taxable class.

Income Tax—Administration leaders hope the excess profits tax will bring in sufficient revenue to make further income levies unnecessary. Some "adjustments" (additional levies) may have to be made in the higher income tax brackets, how-

Prodigal Senator

Charitable Alben Barkley, the newly-elected vice president, would like to leave the door open for Senator Glen Taylor of Idaho the Democratic party's prodigal son, to come back.

Senator Scott Lucas of Illinois, probable majority leader in the 81st Congress, had suggested that Taylor ought to be purged for teaming up with Henry Wallace. "Now, Glen Taylor isn't such a bad fellow," gently chided Barkley. "I know two or three sons o' guns who are a darn sight worse. When the roll is called up yonder, let's not be too hard on Glen Taylor."

Barkley didn't immediately identify whom he considered a darn sight worse." Later, however, he named two likely candidates to be swept out in a Democratic house cleaning.

Senator James Eastland of Mississippi and Senator John McClellan of Arkansas, both with Dixiecrat sympathies. They could inherit control of Senator Homer Ferguson's investigating committee and be in a spot to embarrass the administration.

'Be Patient' Says Former Russian Spy

Returns to Church Retreat After Giving Lecture

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Nov. 22.—(P)—A self-admitted former Russian spy returns today to a Catholic retreat in the New York city area after urging a lecture audience in her girlhood home city to "be patient" with her former associates in the Communist party.

Miss Elizabeth T. Bentley, whose appearance here yesterday was her first in public since her conversion to Catholicism earlier this month, also told reporters she would accept a summons from a $100,000 slander suit brought by William W. Remington, former commerce department official.

In his suit, Remington contends Miss Bentley slandered him by repeating on a radio program charges she made before the house un-American activities committee that he had been a Communist and had furnished her with vital information while he was employed by the government.

To Accept Service

Mrs. Bentley said she "didn't even know" Remington was looking for her until she read it in the newspapers. She said her attorney already had told Remington's lawyers they would accept service.

In New York City, Richard Green, lawyer for Remington, said no attorney for Miss Bentley had told him he was authorized to accept papers for her. He asserted that Miss Bentley had "known for weeks that we are looking for her."

"Be Patient"

The self-styled former spy queen told an audience of 1,200 in Aquinas Institute auditorium last night that if "we are patient and pray for them" there is "a chance" that some of her former Communist associates would "come out."

"I have seen what has happened to them," she said. "I have seen what they are going through. I would like to have you be patient with them because sometimes you know the greatest sinners become the greatest saints."

Eisenhower's Memoirs Fair

LONDON, Nov. 22.—(P)—Gen. Eisenhower's memoirs, attacked by one British newspaper as a blow to British-American friendship, were defended by the Manchester Guardian today as "honest, sincere."

Other British newspapers ignored the criticism of Lord Kemsley's Sunday Times, which said Eisenhower's new book, "Crusade in Europe," is "surprising and painful reading for his admirers and for all those who wish well to British-American relations."

The Manchester Guardian said:

"There will no doubt be controversy about many things in the book, as there must be about anything that looks at the war from another side and does not take British statesmen and soldiers at their own valuation."

"But even the greatest partisans of Churchill and Montgomery must grant Eisenhower's fair-mindedness and equable temper."

Move to Purge GOP Leaders

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—(P)—A move to purge the present leadership of the Republican national committee was said today to be shaping up around Gov. James H. Duff of Pennsylvania.

Duff is being mentioned in some GOP quarters as a possible candidate to succeed Rep. Hugh D. Scott, Jr., who was beckoned by the national chairmanship by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

Many Republicans here doubt that Duff will let himself become publicly involved in any such contest. But these GOP officials say they think the Pennsylvania governor must be reckoned with in any move to change the party's high command.

Duff isn't a member of the national committee, but friends say he wields a lot of influence as the governor of a big state that stayed in the Republican column November 2.

The 65-year-old Pennsylvanian represents to many the party's anti-Dewey forces which took a licking at the Philadelphia convention. They have bounced back into the limelight since Dewey's defeat by President Truman.

Russia Seen Ready to Ease up on the West

Signs Point to Radical Shift to Permit Soviet Concentration on East

In the Soviet line, a change of expression: Molotov (left) will call the signals; Gromyko (center) will go back to Russia's UN team to replace the belligerent Vishinsky (right).

By Leon Dennen
NEA Special Correspondent

PARIS—(NEA)—Close observers of Soviet Foreign policy look for another radical shift in the Russian line soon, aimed at easing tension in Europe to permit the Kremlin to devote its full energies to the revolt-ridden Far East.

Already the Bucharest headquarters of the Cominform, according to a reliable report, has to soft pedal a scheduled railroad strike. These instructions, dated No. 5, also "urged" the Communist-controlled General Confederation of Labor to "liquidate as quickly as possible" the French miners' strike.

This order was signed by Matthias Rakosi, Hungarian vice-premier and the late Zhadanov's successor as chief of the Cominform, and a Russian named Yudin, said to be the Cominform secretary and Stalin's personal representative.

Troubles in Europe, on both sides of the iron curtain, and the ripe field for Communist expansion in Asia seem to be the principal factors which are dictating a more conciliatory Russian attitude toward the western powers.

The first indication of a policy shift came when Tass, the Soviet news agency, picked up a Washington rumor that President Truman would meet with Premier Stalin. The second move undoubtedly will be made here on Nov. 25 when the Combattants de la Liberte are scheduled to open a "peace conference" which is sponsored by the French Communist Party.

Another symptom of change is the alleged "disgrace" of Andrei Vishinsky, the vociferous and belligerent spokesman for the Soviets at the UN meetings in Paris. Well informed circles say that this exponent of the die-hard school of Russian politics will be removed from the first-string diplomatic lineup at the end of the present UN sessions.

He is scheduled to be replaced by Andrei Gromyko, who recently has been singled out for special honors by the Kremlin, with Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov again becoming the chief negotiator with the West. Gromyko is not expected to display a noticeably softer attitude. But the exile of Vishinsky, whose unsavory reputation dates back to the Moscow purge trials and who has become obnoxious to many UN delegates, might in itself be interpreted as a peace gesture.

While Vishinsky is not a member of the powerful Soviet Politburo, his eclipse would suggest that the "moderate" wing of that body is in the ascendancy. These so-called moderates believe that a Soviet peace gesture now, in the face of Communist victories in China, would thwart full-scale American military aid to Chiang Kai-shek.

The failure of the French mine strike, plus the de Gaulle party's gains at the expense of the Communists in the recent elections, undoubtedly strengthen the position of the Maurice Thorez-Jacques Duclos "moderate" group in the French Politburo. This is the group that opposed the strike.

It has always been Thorez' contention that the French Communists could fight the Marshall Plan more effectively from within the Cabinet. Now, because of the Gaullist threat, the moderate political parties, particularly the M. R. P. and Radical Socialists, would welcome the Communists' presence in a reshuffled Cabinet. The elder statesman Edouard Herriot is said to be the prime sponsor of secret negotiations toward this end, which have been taking place in Paris for some weeks.

In the satellite countries and Eastern Germany the Kremlin is still plagued by the Titoist heresy, in spite of wholesale purges. Recent developments in Yugoslavia lend strength to reports that Tito is planning to assemble a rival "Communist International" in Belgrade. It would be made up of anti-Cominform Communist exiles from Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Romania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia. Tito, recently boasted that Yugoslavia had become a haven for "real Communists" who refuse to follow the Cominform line.

The situation in Poland also is troubling Moscow. Ever since Wladyslaw Gomulka was fired from his post of general secretary of the Polish Communist Party for "Titoism," the Russians have been purging high officers of the Polish army. The Hungarian Colonel Revesz, an old M. V. D. hand and reputed chief of the "European Communist Partisan Attachments," has been assigned to this task.

All these things are portents of a shift in the party line. There is no doubt, for all the blood-curdling, anti-capitalist speeches by Marshal Timoshenko, Molotov and the aged dictator himself that Moscow is going to adopt a milder tone toward the west, especially on the hot Berlin issue.

At the same time it can be stated authoritatively that neither the American nor British delegations will exert much effort to bring this troublesome question before the UN General Assembly at this session.

Whittier PTA Met on Friday

The Whittier P.T.A. held its November meeting Friday afternoon in the school auditorium. Mrs. Lester Smith, president, presided and the meeting was opened with the singing of "America."

Grades two, taught by Miss Hortense Bapple and Miss Anna Margaret Wingfield, presented a program and recitation, songs and costumes were in keeping with the Thanksgiving season. Mrs. Vivienne Handley, music teacher of the school, was piano accompanist.

Mrs. Jay Nicholson, program chairman, introduced Mrs. A. A. Studebaker, chairman of the Girl Scout camp committee, who made a short talk preceding the showing of the colored film, "Girl Scouts at Camp." She stated their purpose in showing this film is that the public might see what they are trying to do and also see something of their camp. Each year the Girl Scouts use the money given them through the Community Chest to try and improve their camp. In the last few days, a new shelter house has been completed with the idea of adding others each year so that they will be ready for use when the tents they now have are past use.

Thanks For Those Who Contributed

Mrs. Studebaker also took this opportunity to thank those who had contributed money and boxes for European children to the Junior Red Cross, stating 51 boxes had been sent to St. Louis that day. Claude Boul showed the film, with Mrs. Studebaker narrating.

The devotional was given by Mrs. L. E. Sheridan, using as her theme "Family Love."

IN LAST 16 MONTHS...

MORE MEN VOLUNTEERED FOR THE ARMY than chose jobs in any other business

HERE'S THE RECORD

Between July 1, 1947, and October 21, 1948, a total of 214,616 forward-looking young American men signed original enlistment contracts with the U. S. Army. This number is greater than the number of men who obtained jobs with any other American business during the same period.

During this sixteen-month period the total of all enlistments in your U. S. Army amounted to 341,959. Of this group, 93,473 veterans returned to the Army—men who had discovered that the U. S. Army offered them more than civilian life. And in the same period 33,870 men re-enlisted to continue their satisfying, productive Army careers.

Thousands upon thousands of intelligent young men are finding worth-while, remunerative and satisfying careers in the Army. And every day more men are taking advantage of the unlimited opportunities the Army offers—opportunities that can't be duplicated in civilian life.

For instance, in the month of August, 1948, alone, 44,204 signed enlistment contracts of three years or more with the Army.

Today fifty-seven per cent of the volunteers in the Army have had previous military service—enjoyable, happy service which they want to continue.

This impressive record is solid, conclusive proof that the Regular U. S. Army offers the kind of career opportunity that the young men of our nation demand—an opportunity not only to learn but to serve at the same time.

WHY MEN RE-ENLIST

Ranking high among the reasons thousands of men give for selecting or continuing careers in the Army are the chances for rapid advancement in their chosen fields. Today the Army is expanding fast. This expansion means unlimited opportunity for promotion of skilled, highly trained men.

Advancement is important; however, there are many other good, sound reasons why so many intelligent men choose to stay in the Army. Here are but a few:

★ On the day a man enlists the Army starts a retirement-benefit "stake" for him which continues to grow as long as he stays. At the end of six years he has established an equity which compares with a retirement benefit of $6,250.

★ Army technical schools offer the most advanced and specialized training in interesting, practical fields—give technical "know-how" you'd have to pay for in civilian life.

HERE'S WHAT THE NEW ARMY OFFERS YOU

Before you choose any career, compare it with a future in the Regular U. S. Army. Never before has the Army offered such tremendous opportunities for a real career to the alert, ambitious young men of America.

On the one hand you have the chance to serve your country while learning a new trade or skill—to further your education in important fields. And on the other hand there are the financial advantages, the job security, the retirement benefits, the chances for rapid promotion, the free medical and dental care that are yours in the Army.

A career in the U. S. Army is an opportunity that just can't be beat. And it's a lifetime opportunity! Get the full details now at your nearest U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Office.

Report on Producing of Cattle With Less Corn

One of the features of the Fall Livestock meeting held in Columbia on November 11 was the beef cattle report given by A. J. Dyer, one of the Animal Husbandry Instructors. Mr. Dyer reported on the 51 steers which have been used in the experiment of producing cattle with less corn.

Reducing cost of gains in producing beef is always important to the producer and especially now since the prospect of lowered prices may be more evident when this

It was pointed out that good roughage as well as plenty of good pasture is necessary if one expects to make such gains. A third essential is to have a good quality of cattle.

This table definitely shows that if cattle are to be grazed the following summer, a high rate of gain during the winter is not necessary.

One of the other phases of the cattle experiment shows the effect of fertilizer and lime applications on total gains per acre of pasture. The rate of gain was not affected by treatment but the total gain was increased by 70% when the soil was treated. The carrying capacity was increased considerably. The gains on these two lots are listed:

Pasture—Wheat, Lespedeza on limed and fertilized land. (250 pounds of 4-12-4). Gain 288 pounds.

Wheat-Lespedeza on untreated land. Gain 189 pounds.

The cattle in the experiment will soon be marketed and the dressing percent determined. These results will be given at the Livestock Feeders Day which will be held next spring.

Oak Grove Club Has Meeting

The Oak Grove Extension club met Nov. 5th at the club house with Mrs. A. A. Romig, Mrs. Elmer Mewes, Mrs. William Sperber and Mrs. G. T. Yeater as hostesses.

The devotional was given by Mrs. Herbert Mewes on "Things We Should Be Thankful For."

Roll call was answered, pennies for friendship were collected and the treasurer's report given, after which Miss Esther Dilsaver, home demonstration agent of Pettis county, gave a talk on Balanced Farming and how it applies to the homemaker.

The nominating committee chairman, Mrs. Charles Mawhorter, reported all officers elected for another year. They are, Mrs. Myrtle Mewes, vice president, Mrs. H. A. Wilson; secretary Mrs. Clifford Mawhorter and treasurer Mrs. Elsie Moon.

Mrs. H. A. Wilson was appointed by the president to have charge of the plans for the Christmas party to be held at the home of Mrs. Elsie Moon on December 9.

The meeting adjourned after which refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Winners in Flock Contest

Bagby-McFatriach White Leghorns Get High Rating

The Bagby-McFatriach flock of White Leghorn hens has been named the winner in the Pettis County Flock Improvement contest. The Raymond Martin flock of White Rocks was rated second. Points considered in the Flock Improvement venture are sanitation program 25 points, equipment for young stock 40 points, equipment for laying flock 50, egg production obtained 50, marketing practices followed 25, net return 30, and records 30 points. A county committee composed of Mrs. Harry Range, Mrs. Marvin Goodwin, and Theodore Mergen determined the winner on the basis of the score card which includes a breakdown of the above mentioned points.

Recognition certificates will be provided for all the flocks which had an average of at least 180 eggs per hen for the record keeping year. To be eligible for certificates the flock owners must have kept record in cooperation with the extension service and have entered in the annual contest.

Flock Improvement work is intended to encourage the use of improved poultry production practices and the planning of farm poultry raising as a definite part of the farm business. In addition to the two mentioned flocks, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Gardner will also receive a recognition certificate.

The winning flock had an average annual egg production of 192 eggs per hen. Over 20% of the eggs were laid during October, November and December, the first three months of the record keeping year. The production of the Martin flock was 210 eggs per bird for the year.

The Missouri Farm Flock Improvement venture is a joint enterprise conducted through the co-operation of the Agriculture Extension Service of the University of Missouri, county extension agents, county committees, the Agricultural Department of the Kansas City Chamber of Commerce and the Weekly Kansas City Star.

THE STORY: Well-to-do Louis Durand carries on correspondence courtship with a Miss Julia Russell, whom he has never seen. She comes from St. Louis to marry him. She is young, vivacious, blonde. Within a month of their marriage, she withdraws $50,000 from his bank account and disappears. Investigation proves her an impostor. Durand retains Walter Dowen, detective, to prove a crime was committed against the real Julia Russell, who vanished on the boat trip to New Orleans. A year later, Durand is alone in New York, where he frequents a hotel bar. Worth persuades Durand to dine with him and his fiancee, Miss Castle, the following evening.

SOMEHOW, the next day, he was too lackadaisical about sending his perfunctory regrets in time, and so before he knew it, it was evening, the appointment had become confirmed if only by default, and it was too late to extricate himself from it without being guilty of the grossest rudeness, which would not have been the case had he canceled it a few hours earlier.

He'd lain down on his bed, fully dressed, late in the afternoon for a short nap, and when he awoke the time set was already imminent, and there was nothing left to do now but fulfill the engagement.

He sighed and grimaced privately to his mirror, but then commenced the necessary preparations none the less. He could remain a half-hour, he promised himself, then arrange to have himself called away by one of the waiters with a decoy message, and leave.

Fortified by this intention, shaved and cleanly shirted, he shrugged on his coat, thumbed open his money-fold to see that it was sufficiently well filled, and glumly set forth. A 10-minute

Agriculture Experts Study Effect of Television on United States Farm Life

Television's spread to the farm could bring "every form of culture and education . . . right into the farmers' homes." Classes taught by television might even make it possible for youngsters to stay in bed and still go to school.

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Television is expected to revolutionize theoretical video stations only have a short, 50-mile range. And there are only 45 of them operating in the U. S. today. Nevertheless, it is estimated that close to 7,000,000 farm families could now receive television programs—if they all had receivers.

Within a year, Ohio, with 12 or more stations operating, is expected to become the first state in which every farmer, regardless of where he lives, will have television programs available to him.

The experts believe that it might be 10 years before television will extend service to farmers faster than radio ever did.

Since television recently began its phenomenal boom, dealers have reported an ever-increasing number of farmers buying video sets. In the east and in some mid-west states television antennas are becoming almost as common on farm houses as lightning rods.

The unprecedent farm prosperity and record crops this fall have gotten the farmer interested in this new and entertaining form of communications because he can afford to buy a set.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture is now making a study of how television might affect American farm life. Kenneth M. Gapen, USDA official directing the project, says:

"Television is the greatest medium for education and entertainment of U. S. farmers that has ever come along. It can revolutionize farm life by bringing every form of culture and education that is available to people in their right into the farmers' homes."

One advertiser foresees the day when farmers will buy practically all of their clothing and household goods from television displays. Items would be flashed on the screen and numbered in this modern version of the mail-order business which has always accounted for a big part of farm buying.

Gapen is hopeful that television will improve education for farm children. Classes taught by television could solve the problem of the rural teacher shortage. One teacher could teach hundreds of students. And a rural school with a television set could offer many more kinds of courses.

Before television made such great technical strides it was believed its 50-mile range would limit it to persons living in or very close to cities.

Since then, however, several factors have changed that completely change the concept.

It is being discovered that television beams do strange things. In some directions they carry much greater distances than 50 miles.

For no explainable reason it has been discovered, for instance, that there is excellent reception in Indianapolis of some video programs which come from Chicago, a distance of more than 150 miles.

By building the television transmitter five or 10 miles outside the heart of a city, a great many farm communities are added to the stations' potential audience and the city reception isn't affected.

Two plots on this old field, side by side, have grown corn continuously since 1888. On one, where no soil treatment has been given in all that time, the 1948 yield of corn was only 26.4 bushels on acre.

But on the adjoining plot, where 6 tons of barnyard manure an acre has been applied each year, the 1948 yield was 84.8 bushels, says W. A. Albrecht, Missouri University soils department chairman.

Keeping up the soil fertility with manure has given a good yield on this soil in its 60th year of continuous corn production. And the record casts some doubt on the necessity for much rotation. The corn on the adjoining plot with no soil treatment was "fired," and its appearance suggested drought.

From this we see that plants must have food as well as moisture from the soil.

And so Sanborn Field passes its experience on to the Missouri farmers. Their appreciation of such information has been indicated by the thousands who visited the Experiment Station during the past summer and fall to learn from this old sage of soil wisdom.

No Mother-In-Law Jokes In Cards

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—(AP)—Cartoonists and comedians may be right about mother-in-law jokes—but here's one place where she isn't funny.

In one greeting-card publishing house (Hallmark) here cards for sending to mamas-by-marriage are the most sedate and polite—and there is only one of them. It says, with cautious civility: "Birthday greetings to my mother-in-law."

In Big 7 Conference; Okla. Sooners Walk Away With the Title

By Skipper Patrick
KANSAS CITY, Nov. 22—(P)—The Oklahoma Sooners, one of the most powerful football teams in the Midlands for years, has hoisted the Big Seven conference pennant but the runnerup spot still is in doubt.

Missouri and Kansas will meet Thanksgiving day to play for second place honors.

Kansas, co-champion with Oklahoma the last two seasons, suffered its worst defeat in many seasons in falling before a great Oklahoma team 60-7 before 40,000 fans at Lawrence, Kas., last Saturday.

Coch Jules V. Sikes, who already has steered the Jayhawks to seven victories in his first season in the league, has a big job ahead in getting the Kansans ready to play Missouri at Columbia, Mo.

The Oklahoma club, coached by Charles (Bud) Wilkinson for the second year, proved its class in handling the Jayhawks just as it pleased. The Sooners were forced to punt only three times during the game, in the first two minutes of play, late in the third period and once in the fourth.

While each of the 35 Sooners who got into the game played expertly, the performance of all-America candidates Paul (Buddy) Burriss, a guard, and Jack Mitchell, quarterback, sparked the drive that rolled up 21 first downs, 346 yards rushing, 152

Show-Me Bowl Football Stars

Raytown's 200-pound tackle (at left) holds two of the lighter players of his high school football team on his shoulders. They are Bill Holley and Warren Greeno, both guards. On the right is co-Captain Bob Schultz of the Smith-Cotton Tigers, who will help pilot the Sedilians in their game against Raytown in the Show-Me bowl at Columbia Friday night at 8 o'clock. This is the last game of high school football for Shultz, who has seen four seasons of play and he has a unique record of having either started or played the full game since he started as a regular in his sophomore year. In every game he has accounted for at least one touchdown for the Tigers. He was an all-Central Missouri Conference back in 1947 and it is expected he will repeat again this year. He is five feet, 11 inches tall, weighs 165, and was named on one of the opponent's All-Star teams.

yards passing and 166 yards on punt returns.

Kansas was held to a net 24 yards rushing.

Now in line for a bid to the Sugar, Cotton and Orange bowl classics on New Year's day, the Sooners will complete their regular season against capable Oklahoma A&M in Stillwater Saturday.

The victory over Kansas gave Oklahoma its first undisputed championship since 1944 and its fourth since the league was formed (ex-Big Six) in 1928.

Kansas State, which fell before Oklahoma, A&M 42-6, at Stillwater, will complete its disastrous season against St. Louis university in St. Louis Thursday.

Nebraska also will complete its work for the year against Oregon State in Portland Saturday. The Cornhuskers were trimmed by Missouri 33-6 last week. Colorado ends its first Big Seven football campaign with a 29-25 loss to Colorado A&M. The Buffaloes were fourth in the final league standings with 2 victories against 3 defeats.

Big Seven side slants: A gent said it coming out of the Kansas stadium: "Only way I can explain that big Oklahoma score is that the Jayhawks thought the Sooners were so great they, too, just wanted to sit by and watch the guys run.... On Mitchell's long punt return for a touch-down the Sooner quarterback paused at the fifty-yard line, waited for his interference to form, then chalk walked the west sidelines untouched. Dick Tomlinson, Kansas guard, and fullback Forrest Griffith, each turned in a sterling performance for the losers.... Coach Sikes, many are saying, has done one of the better coaching jobs of the year.... Seven victories is not bad considering the loss of eight key men due to graduation and the eligibility ruling.

Virgil L. Spurling, the Missouri business manager, says: "If you don't have your tickets, don't come to the stadium Thursday. The Missouri-Kansas game is a sellout.... About 32,000, Missouri's largest home crowd, will see the game.... Thursday's attendance also will set a new season home record for Missouri of more than 107,000 for four home games.
